Story Telling

Ant and the dove

One day a dove was sitting on a tree. Under the tree there was a river flowing. An ant was climbing a tree. Suddenly the ant slipped and fell down in the water. Dove saw the ant in trouble, it plucked a leaf and dropped it in the water. Slowly the ant climbed up on the leaf. Dove came down and picked the leaf and placed it on the ground ant thanked the dove for saving its life and went away safely. After some days a hunter came to the forest with his bow and arrow. He saw the dove sitting on the tree. He wanted to shoot the dove. When he was about to shoot the dove, ant saw the hunter aiming at the dove, it came near the hunter and bit the hunter's leg. Hunter cried in pain and missed his aim. The dove flew away and thanked the ant for saving its life. Both ant and the dove became good friends.
