Story : Vegetable Story

There lived a brother and a sister named Varun and Nitha. They asked their mother to prepare vegetable soup. Mother told them that there was no vegetables at home and asked them to bring vegetables from the market. Varun and Nitha went to the market.

Varun bought potato, carrot and onion where as Nitha bought tomato, corn and peas. After reaching home, Nitha made fun of Varun because the vegetables which he had bought were muddy and the vegetables which she bought were clean. Then their mother explained to them that all vegetables must be washed well before use. The vegetables Varun bought grow under the soil and has mud in them. The vegetables Nitha bought grow above the soil but insects moving on them.

The mother washed all the vegetables and prepared some hot soup. Children enjoyed drinking the soup.

Two boys and a nut

Two boys by name Ram and Sham were walking in the park. Suddenly Ram saw a groundnut fallen on the ground. Ram showed the nut fallen on the ground. Sham ran and picked up the groundnut. Ram said it was his nuts, as he saw it first. Sham said he picked it up first so it was his. Soon a fight began between them. Ram and Sham's quarreling was been observed by a big boy by name Hari. The big boy came and asked them as to why they were quarreling. Ram and Sham told what had happened. Hari said he would solve their problem and took the groundnut from Sham. He opened it and gave half shell to Ram and the other half shell to Sham and he ate the nuts. The two friends became sad because they did not get the nuts.
